Recent Contracts

- A 10-year contract engaged in New Business Development for Siyabona Africa – one of Africa’s largest internet based Travel Destination Marketing companies.
- During this time, I fulfilled the roles of Production Manager, Creative Director (BTL), and Special Projects Co-Ordinator, after having previously been instrumental in helping the start-up of the business in 2000.

The position required that I be responsible for:

- Creative direction – for print, digital and web
- Web Content production management
- Editorial Content quality assessment on the Siyabona Travel Network
- On-line B2C Marketing activities. Development and implementation
- Corporate B2B marketing and communications
- Corporate ID maintenance and implementation

My Responsibilities

I was primarily involved the formulation of the various product line marketing strategies, including development and implementation of media directed at the travel trade: both local all-Africa service providers and international buyers for the South African based leisure travel market.

- Corporate Brand Promotion
- Strategic Concepts for On-line Marketing

As Design Co-Ordinator my tasks encompassed:

- all corporate design applications for communication collateral, Corporate ID development for the Company, as well as for our affiliated partners and selected service providers.
- over-all application of web-marketing driven design criteria to all publication material
- editorial content quality assessment
- brochure and media Ad design, through to final repro and print

As Production Manager: [read also Studio Manager, Traffic Manager, General Dog's Body], I took responsibility for the application of design and editorial content needed for the web and on-line marketing / promotion activities

As Project Manager: I was involved in both Business and Marketing Development.

Responsibilities:

Web-Site Production, Content and Editorial Management

Website Design – taking responsibility for the look and feel of the various domains

Strategic Concepts for On-line Marketing to improve site traffic & SEO techniques.

Corporate Communications: Strategy and briefs & Budget Development.

Previous Contracts – Part Two

I was given another 3-year contract with the task of performing all these same functions for the newly-launched subsidiary company Southafrica.co.za

As Project Leader my main tasks were:

- Initiating Product Marketing Strategy
- Manufacturer and Product Assessment
- Aggregation of product information for the production of Online Content.
- Project Team performance and production levels
- Critical Path Oversight: Production scheduling, Performance and Production standards

Technical Capability

Program Skills

- PhotoShop Suite and Adobe Premiere plus all the other ancillary programs/apps/ etc
- MS PowerPoint, Project Manager, Excel, Word, plus others.

While am reasonably conversant with HTML and some PHP and JQuery, I believe that as a Conceptualist and Creative/Art Director, or Production manager – I prefer to direct the skills of those that are expert at it. While I look after the deliverable results.

Other Skill Sets [Clerical?]

- Budget setting and control
- Familiarity with general accounting practices
- Project time management (of Teams)
- Production Pre-planning, tracking and progress reporting
- Corporate Client Liaison
- Production Supplier relationship maintenance

On a Business Level - Reporting

Based on my experience, as Creative Director / Art Director / Production Manager. I reported directly to the company CEO. The person who pays my salary.

As a freelancer, I report only to the Creative or Art Director, or Client. The person who contracts me.

I do not report to, or through: Assistants, Co-Creatives, Secretaries, Receptionists or any other go-betweens. Given that they will have no idea of what I am actually discussing with them. Nor do they pay me.

On a Personal Level

I have a very high energy level and direct my skills of people motivation, management team discipline and delivery on realistic deadlines.

In every organisation I have worked for, I have brought a positive, enthusiastic and highly energized creative influence to the process.

My off-beat sense of humour is of great help in dealing with people.

Especially in the often ego-fragile and over-pressurised environment of the creative/ad-industry.

In return I demand a high degree of integrity from Management, a clear brief and path of intent, and a straight forward, non-egotistic, situation-resilient management team, to fulfil my pursuit of perfection and profit.

Punctuality

I always am.
